

MAJOR NEWS ALERT: HISTORIC DEVELOPMENTS!

You are watching history in the making! When BIOPRO launched, hardly anybody on the planet talked about the health concerns associated with cell phone and wireless device usage. How times have changed! During the past two weeks, an unprecedented 'avalanche' of media coverage and political debate about the major health concerns surrounding long term Cell Phone usage has hit the globe. The world's largest news outlets such as CNN, USA Today, LA Times, Science News, UK Telegraph, Reuters, Fox News, and even the U.S. Senate have catapulted the public awareness about the electropollution issue to an unprecedented all time high. Simply put, BIOPRO chips and their mission have arrived at last.

Imagine walking up to someone you care about and conceptually share something along the following lines with them:

"We distribute BIOPRO cell chips- My team and I have the exclusive the rights to market the world's only patented and validated solution to counteract the effects of cell phone and wireless device usage. The demand for our amazing products and business has just sky-rocketed because the health concerns about this issue have exploded into public awareness. In the last few weeks and months alone, the issue has created worldwide media frenzy. For example:

- The Los Angeles Times just published an article about "Cell phones and brain tumors: Report revives nagging questions". In a follow up poll, when people were asked "Do you worry about cell phone radiation", 95% (!) of people responded by either saying "Yes. I don't want a brain tumor", or by saying "[I worry] sometimes..."
- In September, the U.S. Senate just held a special hearing on "Health Effects of Cell Phone Use", with experts from around the world voicing their concerns about this fast growing health concern.
- The UK Telegraph just published an article about "Scientists calling on US Senate to issue advice on mobile phones"
- CNN recently reported that "Experts advise caution regarding cell phone usage over health concerns"
- A powerful conference on "Cell Phones and Health: Science and Public Policy Questions" with world renowned science and health experts just took place in Washington D.C., and made international headlines.
- The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has now mandated protective gear for school employees, and the World Health Organization is developing medical diagnostic codes for "Electromagnetic Hypersensitivity". Schools may face a barrage of employees with doctors notes to request protective gear to shield their exposure to non-ionizing radiation fro devises such as computers, laptops, copy machines, telephones, cell phones, etc. for which this OSHA ruling makes provisions.
- Thirty six Governors and Mayors across America proclaimed MAY 2009 as Electromagnetic Sensitivity and Multiple Chemical Sensitivity month. Bill 117, in the Ohio Legislation, proposes to make this an annual event because of the serious environmental health crisis in the state.

- PEOPLE Magazine, posted a CLASS ACTION SUIT NOTIFICATION against all Manufacturers of "Bluetooth" technologies. Owners of these technologies are encouraged to contact interested parties.
- The French government has banned advertising of mobiles to children because of fears of increased risk of cancer from cell phone use"
- The governments of Germany, Canada, Russia, Israel, Sweden and even the European Parliament have issued warnings and guidelines restricting cell phone usage by children and teenagers, and have mandated stricter radiation limits.

With all of this going on, can you imagine the massive demand for a business that allows you to market a unique, affordable, patented and validated solution to this global problem that has become this big? If you are interested in learning more about how you can leverage this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, I'd be happy to tell you more about it..."

However, as the exclusive BIOPRO Distributor - choose to share the recent media reports about the health issues surrounding Cell Phone usage with others, it is vitaly important that you do. Knowledge creates responsibility. We have known from the beginning of BIOPRO that spreading the word about the dangers of electropollution is vitally important. Now that the world of science, health and media have caught up to that same concept, we have arrived at the most powerful juncture of public awareness and therefore opportunity to make a massive difference for people on this planet – with both our BIOPRO business and products. We thank you in advance for helping us share our mission daily!!

The following are a few excerpts from various statements by participants at the recent U.S. Senate hearing on Health Effects of Cell Phone Use, chaired by Sen. Tom Harkin (D-IA), which was a standing-room-only affair.

"What worried me was that, in my study, I saw consistent positive results and they always appeared where there is biological plausibility. They did not appear in this group or in that group. They appeared in the more than ten years [group], they appeared on the same side where the phone was held, they appeared for the heavy users and they appeared in rural areas compared to urban areas and this also has had biological plausibility..." —Siegal Sadetzki on her Israeli Interphone study;

"In the present situation of the scientific uncertainty, the statements that the use of mobile phones is safe are premature." —Dariusz Leszczynski;

"EWG strongly believes that the government should support additional research into this important health question" —Olga Naidenko;

"...the issue of children is something we should look at a little more closely ... We have a duty to do more by protecting children. The question, I think, boils down to what additional studies are necessary" —Sen. Arlen Specter;

"I found this really very interesting and very challenging and I can assure you we are going to do some follow-up on this" —Sen. Tom Harkin.
